

Laurie Grove is the Director of Career Services at Thaddeus Stevens College of Technology. After creating Stevens' first ever Career Services department, she has spent the past 13 years working together with technical faculty and industry to prepare students for entrance into the workforce, while networking with employers from across Pennsylvania and beyond to connect them with highly skilled students and graduates.

Prior to joining the college, Laurie spent nearly 15 years with Marriott International directing the sales efforts of various extended stay hotels in Pennsylvania and Delaware before traveling throughout the United States as a National Sales Training Consultant facilitating Sales and Professional Presentation classes to newly-hired sales managers.

Laurie holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Communications Media from Indiana University of Pennsylvania along with various Training and Facilitation certifications through Marriott International and Communispond New York. Laurie has been married for 25 years and has 2 adult daughters.
